Amazing app, I've been using it a long time although it runs a but slow but that's because I use an old phone and the smallest model, love all the new features being added and that the developer keeps improving things, I'm really interested to see what it has for the future. Only problem is sometimes when there's a new update to the app or the models I have to redownload the models from the link in the discord since if I do it from the app its just glitched at the end, not a big problem though.

Incredibly impressive! I'm most impressed by the fact that you can use any llm of your choice and run them locally and set your own instruct codes. By far the best Android application I've seen that allows you to do this. So you can use it for serious usecase and entertainment. For more casual users, it's also very user-friendly with a few ready-to-use llms available in one click. Interface is beautiful and friendly, application starts super quickly and there's a tons of optional features.

One of the better offline Ai bot (it actually works) , there is a lot of choices to customise as you want. Can add todo list, calendar and notes, there is also a lite version. If your phone is low on specs, you may get away with 6 gigabytes of RAM, but you will need a pretty good processor. Brought the full version and well worth the expenditure.
